Tests execution and disputes

17. Veneto 2022 is an exercise for "reconnaissance and infiltrated combat patrol".
18. Patrols will arrive at all checkpoints as a team; time hacks will take place only when the last team member arrives.
19. Should the patrol be delayed at a Check-point, the delayed time will be removed from the total by Check-point supervisors. Test execution will take place in arrival order. Patrols are permitted to wait further after a test at a Check-point, but this delay time WILL IN NO WAY BE REMOVED.
20. For each Check-point, the Exercise Command sets a maximum time per sector and a maximum time of arrival (so-called "gate"). If a Patrol gets to a Check-point beyond the time fixed, even for reasons not depending on same, the Patrol will take the Check-point tests but cannot continue the competition course. The Exercise Command will recover this Patrol and, if possible, transport it to the next Check-point where it can perform the tests set forth therein. The Patrol will receive the points of the tests performed. The times of the gates are shown in the tender documents.
21. No substitution may take place once the competition has started. Even if only one member of the Patrol is unable to continue, the competition will be ended for the whole Patrol and the Organization will proceed to the retrieval of the team. No incomplete team is allowed to continue the competition: Operations Command, at its sole discretion, can authorize incomplete team to continue on the path. They will be admitted to the tests but not to the general score.
22. Each participant must be careful to your own safety and that of others, following the Organization instructions exposed to every Check-Point, the base and the Tactical Operation Centre. Tests supervisors will verify that each participant understand instructions. EVERY ACTION DEEMED NOT APPROPRIATE ABOUT SAFETY WILL CAUSE THE IMMEDIATE EXCLUSION FROM THE TEST OR FROM THE RACE. In particular:
 - a) It is the right and duty of each Check-point Supervisor to evaluate the psycho- physical conditions of a Patrol and, in case, halt it if judged unfit to continue. Such decision is undisputable.
 - b) It is the right and duty of each Test Supervisor to deem patrol material unsuitable for the test and therefore exclude the team from the test. Participants will carefully follow the safety directions given by the Test Supervisor. He/she will be responsible for suspending the test and will have the power to exclude the patrol from the rest of the competition in case of severe violation of the given instructions. Such decision is undisputable.
 - c) Participants must follow to the letter the instructions given during the shooting test by the Test Supervisor. He/she will have the power to suspend the test and to exclude the team from the rest of the competition in case of severe violation of the given instructions. Such decision is undisputable.
 - d) the organization's personnel (with clothing different from the distinctive signs communicated in the briefing) must be considered by the patrol as non-existent.
 - e) Check-point Supervisors or Test Supervisors will explain their decision. They will write it and they will communicate it to Exercise Command.
23. Exercise Command reserves the right to alter at any time course, order, type and/or execution of tests.
24. Participants, independently of rank, WILL HAVE to follow direction issued by Competition Judges and Check-point Supervisors; whenever a participants outranks the Judge or the Supervisor, a functional dependency will take place.
25. For marginal issues, complaints may be presented to Test Supervisor. Should a solution not be found, the Check-point Supervisor will make a decision. Such decision is final and the Patrol will have to comply with it.
26. At the end of the competition, subject to the payment of a € 20.00 fee, each patrol may present a further written complaint to the Exercise Command, who will further investigate the matter. A final complaint, subject to the payment of a € 50.00 fee, may be submitted, in case of further disagreement, to Exercise Commander, who will issue a ruling, having heard the Exercise Command and Branch Director. This final ruling is undisputable. Only in case of acceptance of the complaints, all fees paid will be given back.

Standings, responsibilities, weather

27. The following standings will be drafted: Absolute, Active Duty, Retired, Individual (only for shooting tests).
28. Organization will never assume responsibility for damages to persons/goods that might happen during the exercise. In case of injury, each participant is obliged to inform immediately the Organization and to activate the emergency procedures, using the telephone or the radio.
29. Every participant, by subscribing, states he/she is in perfect psycho-physical conditions and waives to any rights or actions against the Organization and its single staff members in the occurrence of personal injuries throughout the competition.
